Craig Ogden

Internationally renowned classical guitarist Craig Ogden joins us for an evening of works by Scarlatti, Bach, Granados and others, interwoven with anecdotes from his eventful life.

Saturday 7th December at 7.30pm

Jesus College Cambridge

Our Advent Concert is given by the choir of Jesus College Cambridge, under the direction of Richard Pinel. This elite mixed voice choir - our first visitors from Cambridge University - will continue our tradition of anticipating Christmas with wonderful sacred and traditional music from around the world, with our customary mulled wine and mince pies in the interval.

Edington Angels

We hope you will enjoy the variety and high standard of music brought to you by Edington Arts. To help us continue to develop our artistic programme, why not support us by joining our loyal and committed band of Edington Angels?

In return for a modest annual payment of £30 (individual) or £50 (joint), Angels receive a 10% reduction per ticket on each event, and an annual pre-concert get-together with the night's performers.

We will also apply priority booking for those concerts where there is significant pressure on seats, such as the Advent Concert.

The subscription can be GiftAided, and can be paid by Standing Order. Please contact our Treasurer, Sue Lowery, 01380 871549 or sue@edingtonarts.org for more information, or pick up a leaflet from the church.

Box Office Information

Information about the whole programme is available online at www.edingtonarts.org as and when it becomes available. You can also join our mailing list from the website, so we can give you the latest information about concerts. Keep looking!

Tickets are generally £20 front nave, £15 rear nave and £10 sides. 18 and under come free. There is a 10% discount for Edington Angels.

Please note, if you buy your ticket on the door, you will need to add £2 per ticket.

Email sue@edingtonarts.org or phone Chrissy on 01380 831256 to reserve your tickets. It would help us greatly if you can arrange payment well in advance of the concert; we cannot guarantee your seat until we receive payment.

Jun and Yuuki Bouterey-Ishido

We are delighted to have been able to continue our support of the International Musicians Seminar at Prussia Cove in Cornwall, covering the accommodation costs of two of the over 100 outstandingly talented students chosen from conservatoires worldwide. This allows them to take up the offer of places on this week of masterclasses with some of the world's finest pianists and string players.

In return, 'our' students come to play for us, and we are thrilled to present brothers Jun and Yuuki Bouterey-Ishido, playing piano and cello. This afternoon concert, ending with tea and cakes, will offer some outstanding musicianship from a duo destined for great things. The full programme will be up on the website as soon as it is confirmed, but will include Beethoven's Cello Sonata op 102 no. 2, and probably Fauré's Sonata op117 no. 2.

Saturday 9th May at 7.30pm

Operatunity

Anna Sideris, soprano, Olivia Warburton, mezzo, Rob Forrest, tenor, and Thomas Bennett, bass -is a group of four of the most exciting young opera singers recently graduated from the Royal Academy of Music. They will be accompanied by Keval Shah, pianist, in a programme of quartets, duets and solos. It will be a feast for opera lovers, and a wonderful evening of arias and songs.

Saturday 27th June at 7.30pm

Martin James Bartlett

Pianist Martin James Bartlett has embarked on a stellar career since winning the BBC Young Musician of the Year in 2014 aged 18, following up with his BBC Proms debut in 2015, and a succession of festivals around the world. Possessed of a 'fearless technique', he plays the piano with a wisdom and elegance far beyond his years, and is recognised as being one of the great talents, now and of the future. We are truly delighted to be able to welcome him to the Priory Church for what will be an exciting and fulfilling evening's music.

Saturday 10th October from 10-5pm

Choral Workshop

The seventh Edington Arts Choral Workshop will be led by Simon Carrington, founder member of The Kings Singers, Emeritus Professor of Choral Conducting at Yale in the US, and now a freelance conductor and sought-after workshop leader, taking workshops and master classes round the world. We are very fortunate to have found a gap in his busy schedule to lead a workshop in the Priory Church; we will be exploring a twentieth century British theme, including Britten's astonishing 'Rejoice in the Lamb', and one or possibly two other short 20th century British works. Full information will be on the website as soon as it is confirmed; applications will be open from the beginning of April 2020.

Saturday 7th November at 7.30pm

The Metamorphoses Trio

The Metamorphoses Trio is an interesting combination of instruments - piano, clarinet and viola - played by world-class established solo musicians who founded the trio in 2016. Ilona Timchenko (Russia), Jean Johnson (USA) and Roeland Jagers (Netherlands) offer a unique opportunity to explore music written for this instrumental line-up, from Mozart's Kegelstatt Trio to Russian elegies, Schumann and the best of German romantics. Their performances are "sincere, imaginative and as fresh as paint" according to Gramophone UK, and their first CD received magnificent reviews.

Merton College Oxford

The Choir of Merton College Oxford make a welcome return to Edington with Ben Nicholas directing. Having performed the first of our Advent Concerts in 2015 they set the bar very high, and they are very much looking forward to returning, with a new student membership, to out-do their predecessors! Mulled wine and mince pies in the interval as always will complete a very special evening of music for Advent and Christmas.
